Permit Required For All Burning in City of Albany

Albany Fire Chief Gerald D. ... calls attention to the fact that all burning within the city of Albany must be by permit. Some confusion has arisen with regard to the registration of burners with the Air Pollution Control District. This registration concerns the APCD and has nothing to do with the local fire department except to the extent of furnishing registration.

Local ordinance requires all burning with incinerators to first obtain a required permit before burning may be done legally.

There is no charge for this permit which will allow burning between the hours of 7 a.m. and 6 p.m., every day but Monday, on which day no burning is allowed. These permits are issued for a period of six months and must be renewed after that time. Permit holders wishing permits may telephone Fire Prevention, LA 5-7141, or call at 801 San Pablo Avenue. Incinerator must meet minimum requirements before the permit is issued.

Your Chamber Manager wants to say, "It's wonderful to be back in Albany and at work again!"

A year ago in this same column, the statement was made that September should be the time for resolutions, new plans, and renewed effort to accomplish them — With the welcome break of summer, vacations behind us, we can better face the months ahead, to work just a little harder for a better and more progressive community. It holds a truth for us again in the beginning of September, 1960.

With September, comes the opening of the Albany Schools — Your Chamber of Commerce recognizes the importance that the Albany schools and their teachers play in the progress of our city — A WELCOME TO ALBANY Luncheon is planned for the twelve new teachers joining the teaching staffs of our schools. Local interest will center at the Leamington Hotel which will be the convention headquarters.

Local Association's General Chairman, Robert L. Snell, stated that the central theme of the convention will be: "The Survival of a Great Industry."

AN EDITORIAL

Last Monday's council meeting was disappointing in that no satisfactory settlement was reached on the appointment of a fifth member to the council.

Charges and counter-charges were made against the candidate whom Mrs. Zahn asserts she will appoint to the post at ten o'clock this Thursday morning, September 1.

She has declared that her mind is made up, and with sole power to make the appointment she will name Mr. Paul R. Boyich to the post.

There have been many good candidates suggested for the vacancy on the council, but the mayor continues to stand by her assertion that precedent calls for the naming of the candidate in the last election who came closest to being elected.

Apparently Mrs. Zahn fails to take into consideration the fact that such a furore has been raised in opposition to her chosen appointee that "the good of the city" might well be considered rather than one of personal favor, or of personal interest.

Mrs. Zahn undoubtedly feels that she has a debt to pay to Mr. Boyich, not only for his support of her interests in the recent election, but for the criticism and abuse he has been subjected to more or less on her behalf.

Appointment of a compromise candidate of ability to fill this vacancy in the council might well be the beginning of a term of cooperation and progress, and the rebirth of a feeling of loyalty and enthusiasm among Albany's citizens.

Owens to Speak Before Rotary on 'Political Trends'

Richard W. Owens, secretary-treasurer of the California Farm Bureau Federation, will be the speaker at next Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Albany Rotary Club. His subject will be "Current Political Trends as They Affect You". The speaker will be introduced by member Joseph C. Eyring, Albany and Berkeley Realtor.

Mr. Owens has held the post in the Farm Bureau Federation for the last six years. Previously, for several years he was legislative representative and in charge of the Agriculture Department of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

The Albany Rotary Club meets at noon on each Tuesday, at Spenger's Grotto, on Fourth Street, north of University Avenue, in Berkeley.

Education Center Classes to Open September 12th

The Fall Quarter of the Albany Adult Education Center will start on Monday, September 12, and will offer a wide assortment of day and evening classes, according to Robert G. Dennis, principal.

Registration for evening classes held at the Albany High School building will open at 6:30 p.m., September 12, in the principal's office; while sign-ups for evening classes held elsewhere and all day classes will be made by the instructor of each class on the days and evenings they are scheduled. No advance registrations are necessary for any of the classes, and students may plan to enroll at the time scheduled for their particular class. All courses are open to the enrollment of adult residents both of Albany and of neighboring communities.

"The Evening Star", official publication of the Adult Center, giving a complete schedule of classes and description of courses, will be distributed to residents of Albany and of neighboring areas by September 8. Anyone who has not received a copy by that time and wishes one should call the Administration Office of the Albany City Schools during the day, LA 6-6441.

The classes scheduled will cover a wide variety of subjects, including: applied arts and design, art of dressing effectively, art appreciation and workshops, auto driving, bookkeeping, braided and hooked rugmaking, business machines and office practice, braille, citizenship, civil service, cooking and baking, dressmaking and tailoring, English-refresher, English for new Americans, French, German, home crafts, home decorating, home repairs and maintenance, investments.

Also: Italian, knitting and charting, everyday law, mathematics, millinery, mosaics, pattern drafting, color slide photography, physical conditioning for women, piano workshops, pottery and mold making, psychology for everyday living, radio-electronics, real estate, Russian, shorthand, Spanish, speech arts, swimming instruction, typing, upholstery, woodworking and furniture refinishing, world affairs, and writing for publication.

RECORD CROWD AT MARIN MEETING

A crowd estimated at more than 500 attended the Albany council session on Monday night. It was a good crowd, but it was not a boisterous crowd, but it seemed intensely interested in what was going on.

Unfortunately nothing was settled. There were charges and counter charges, but nothing that might be considered decisive.

The session at the Marin School auditorium opened shortly before 8:30.

Routine matters on the other full agenda were handled quietly and in order, including the presentation of an award plaque to the city by Paul E. Jackson of the California State Automobile Association for its safety record during 1959.

Starting with item No. 10 on the agenda the controversial matter of appointing a new member to the city council to replace Ray Cirmeli, who recently resigned, was taken up by Mayor Zahn.

A letter from Louis R. Tripodi, 825 Polk Street, submitting for consideration in seating the fifth council member his qualifications which parallel those of the resigned member, was read and ordered filed by the mayor.

A series of questions was presented by John B. Larimer of 855 Key Route Boulevard, and Mrs. Elda D. Foot of 635 San Gabriel Avenue concerning the mayor's proposed appointee to the council.

Eldon A. Wolf, 1006 Perad Avenue, also spoke at some length on the same subject.

The mayor commented that this was a "witch hunt", made up of veiled charges and innuendos. "This witch hunt has gone far enough," she said.

The mayor further related incidents in the past which she claimed was representative of the opposition to her and to her proposed appointee. She mentioned the prank staged by some members of the Junior Chamber at a time when she was urging support for her candidacy for mayor. She spoke of the "smear campaign" against her proposed candidate for appointment to the council when he was a member of the Albany Civil Service Commission; she mentioned the "threat against her life which she had reported to the police; then introduced her proposed appointee, Paul R. Boyich, who declared the comments and charges that had been made against him were entirely untrue, and proceeded to explain the union factions which had opposed him and the vicious tactics adopted to get rid of him.

The mayor declared she sponsored Mr. Boyich because of his work on behalf of the school bonds and other civic betterments, and he is further doing an excellent job on the Planning & Zoning Commission, she said.

Councilman Jerome Blank spoke of the resignation of Mr. Cirmeli. He declared the former councilman "could not stomach the dictation by Mayor Zahn," and that this had much to do with the resignation. The councilman also said it seemed to him that the mayor was "trying to perpetrate a hoax on the city in these death threats."

Councilman Blank also commented on the pre-election campaign against former Councilman Donahue, and the charges that he had been absent so much. "Few people realized," said Blank "that Mr. Donahue had suffered a severe heart attack, and that it was not lack of interest that kept him away from council meetings."

Councilman Lewis M. Howell then asked for the floor and moved the appointment of John A. Zoro, 1032 Curtis, to the council vacancy. He declared Mr. Zoro had really made a study of Albany needs, its departmental operations, and the desires of its citizens, during his campaign.

Economic Effect of Importing Surplus Power From Northwest is Discussed

SACRAMENTO — The importation to California of Bonneville Power Administration electric energy must be considered in relation to the economic effects it would create in California, a utilities official said in testimony before a State Senate water committee here today.

Robert H. Gerdes, executive vice president of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, reviewed two proposals under consideration and evaluated them in relation to the water and power economics of California.

One, involving surplus Bonneville output, would be feasible if the importations to Northern California are limited to 2 billion kilowatt-hours a year, he said. Importing more than that, Gerdes declared, would interfere with various state and local agencies which are planning water projects and propose marketing by-product power to help make such projects financially feasible. Also, he said, the introduction of excessive dump power would jeopardize the level of production of oil and gas which are vital to firm power in California, especially in dry years.

The other proposal, calling for the construction of two 500,000-volt transmission lines from the Columbia River to Bakersfield, Calif., and a steam power plant in Washington, would introduce into California a large block of firm power at low capacity factors and would, Gerdes said, have the "same general characteristics as the by-product power which is proposed as a part of many water conservation projects," and thus adversely affect such projects.

"In our opinion," the PG&E executive said, "the power from local water development projects and other California developments should be given priority in the California market."

"The importation of Northwest firm power would, our studies show, seriously interfere with the marketing of power from the State's Feather River Project, particularly in view of the necessity of providing a market for power produced by the proposed pump storage in the State Water Plan."

Gerdes said the plan of BPA, to send power over a 97-mile, 230,000-volt line projected from Klamath Falls, Oregon, to the PG&E system near Burney, California offers the only answer to BPA surplus power disposal. He noted that this has the support of a study made by the BPA in cooperation with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, the Federal Power Commission, the governors of the affected states and local public and private agencies. This would provide the BPA with $1.8 million a year in added revenue and is the only plan financially sound under current conditions, he said.

"It does not now appear that PG&E could be a party to any arrangement under which we would take any part of the large amounts of power" proposed in the plan advocated by Sol E. Schultz, the State's consultant, Gerdes said.

East Bay Utility Gets Low Interest Rate in Bond Sale

The second serial of its $252-million water development bond issue, in the amount of $30 million, was sold last week by the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

Successful bidder for the Series B general obligation bonds was Halsey Stuart & Co., Inc. and Associates. There were two other bidders.

The syndicate headed by Halsey Stuart, a Chicago firm, was awarded the bond issue on the basis of a net interest rate of 3.30201 per cent.

Joseph A. Duner, EBMUD treasurer, termed the interest rate "very favorable." He noted that it was 15 points below the interest rate for the $25-million in Series A bonds sold in February, 1959. That rate was 3.4538 per cent. Halsey Stuart also was the successful bidder on that issue.

Other bids received on the $30-million issue were as follows: F. S. Smithers & Co., First Western Bank and Trust Co. and Associates; Net interest rate — 3.347034 per cent. Bank of America, National Trust and Savings Assn. and Associates; Net interest rate — 3.393075 per cent.

EBMUD's $252-million bond issue was authorized by the voters on June 3, 1958. It will finance the District's $283-million, 10-year expansion program aimed at meeting East Bay water needs through the year 2000. New and improved facilities to be finished in 1967, are approximately 25 per cent complete.

The District plans to issue portions of the $252-million issue annually through 1967 in accordance with the construction schedule.

Mrs. Kuznets Chosen Director Of Nursery School

The Berkeley Hills Nursery School begins its 29th year as a parent-owned cooperative school on September 12 with a new director. She is Mrs. Alice Kuznets and she fills the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Rose Weilerstein who has been director for five and one-half years and a member of the staff for 10 years. The school is on Sterling Avenue, in North Berkeley.

In announcing the appointment of Mrs. Kuznets, Mrs. Stephen Lindheim, president of the school commented that although the present members and hundreds of alumni regret Mrs. Weilerstein's decision to leave the teaching field, the board of directors feels fortunate to have secured the services of Mrs. Kuznets.

She has been director of the Sequoia Cooperative Nursery School in Oakland for the past five years and was assistant director there for one year prior to being named director. In addition, she has taught at the Eleanor Griffin Nursery School, Gay School and Berkwood School, all located in Berkeley.

Mrs. Kuznets, who resides on Spruce Street, is the wife of University of California professor George M. Kuznets and the mother of two children who are now students at Berkeley High School.

Shown here are three of the prettiest girls in the State of California, reports the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce.

That's right, three, count 'em, reading from head to toe is the dazzling smile of Lorna Anderson, the perfect measurements, 36-23 1/2-36, of Linda Marie Hines, and the shapely legs of Joan Beckett.

The composite picture was put together when recently the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce made a claim that Sacramento girls are the prettiest in the State. Chamber officials based their claim on the history of the Maid of California Contest held at the California State Fair annually. Of the seven winners three are from Sacramento, two are from Orange, with Tulare and San Diego County trailing at one each. This year the Maid of California will be awarded the coveted crown on August 31, opening day of the 12-day State Fair.

last spring for the office, and has continued to study these matters since that time. Mr. Howell said he thought Mr. Zoro would make a good councilman. The motion was seconded by Councilman Blank, but lost on a tie vote with

Coun. Ilman Carlevaro and Mayor Zahn voting "NO."

One speaker declared, "Since the council can't agree, the people of the city should vote on it a referendum vote. Joseph A.

Egenberger of 518 Stannage Avenue, received a tremendous round of applause when he declared, "Every time you give a fanatic power, you turn him into a tyrant."

Sum and substance of the meeting was no apparent result, but a very gratifying turnout which proved that interest in civic affairs is far from dead in Albany.

The meeting adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

An elephant-size chunk of metal that tames high voltages down to usable electricity is called a power transformer—and Frank has 9 of them on wheels! These mobile units are sent out to take over for the regular transformers requiring emergency repairs. This eliminates the need for scores of spare transformers at substations. Efficiencies like this help hold down the price of service . . . another reason why PG&E customers pay $1 for the same gas and electricity that cost $1.28 elsewhere.*

22 Cars Enter for 100-Lap Hardtop Race at Pacheco
PACHECO — A 100-lap hardtop race, featuring a big field of 22 cars, highlights the Labor Day weekend program Saturday night at Contra Costa Speedway.
Unlike the recent Monza-type 100-lapper, which ran in three separate legs, Saturday's headliner will be a single race, longest of the year at the quarter-mile strip.
LeRoy Geving, the Petaluma hotshot who recorded his seventh triumph of 1960 by taking the 25-lap feature over the past weekend over fellow townsman Don Moreda, leads the pack.

THE BETROTHAL OF SUE ANN JONES and Robert Davidson McLean Jr. was recently announced by Mr. and Mrs. George E. Jones Sr., of Richmond, parents of the bride-to-be. Sue is a graduate of the Ells High School in 1958, and received an Associate of Arts degree last June from Contra Costa College where she was a member of the Alpha Delta Tau sorority, and of the Sequoia Y-Teens and Job's Daughters. Robert is a graduate of Oakland Technical High and served with the U.S. Air Force. His parents are the Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. McLean Seniors of Albany.

Naval Reservists Asked to Apply For Active Duty
Approximately 3,200 young naval reservists who live in the three-state Twelfth Naval District are being asked to apply for active duty contracts of from two to five years in an effort to fill a Navy need for junior officers, district headquarters in San Francisco announced today.
Application blanks are being sent to lieutenants (junior grade) and to lieutenants who were promoted prior to July 2, 1955, the Navy said. The Twelfth Naval District includes Northern California, Utah and most of Nevada.
Similar applications are being mailed to young reserve officers in all naval districts. From applicants throughout the country the Navy hopes to select about 2,000 for active duty to help plug the gap in its officer ranks.
Applicants are being asked to volunteer for at least five years of duty, but a minimum of two years is acceptable. Both surface and flying officers are being sought.

Recall of volunteers from reserve lists can mean a big saving to the Navy in training costs. A reserve lieutenant or lieutenant j.g. ordinarily has completed preparatory courses which permit him to be sent directly to duty requiring some experience at a saving of thousands of dollars, the Navy said.

YOUR INVESTMENT IN WATER

Those 252-million dollars you voted to invest in water back in 1958 are doing big things today. A giant new aqueduct is moving toward our cities from the Sierra slopes, where a towering new dam will triple our reserves of crystal mountain water.

Here in the East Bay we will complete four huge new open-cut reservoirs during 1961. There's more, too—dams, mains, filter plants, pumping plants. In fact, it's one of the West's biggest construction jobs!

Actually, almost one-quarter of the entire project is either completed or under construction. And, we're happy to report, everything's on schedule and well within the budget.

LONG WEEKENDS

Have you noticed how many 3 day holidays we have had this year? This probably can be explained by an astrologer, but one thing no astrologer can explain is why so many people go away on these holidays without placing their valuables in a safe deposit box. In case it's ignorance, our duty (and pleasure) is to tell you how reasonable the cost of this service is. The small size (ample to begin with) costs 1 1/2 cents per day or $4.40 for a whole year.
It could cost many times this sum just to replace one valuable paper. So don't delay! Act before it's too late!
